It is said that the Hayes reception at the Indiana State fair at Indianapolis last fall was much larger and more magnificent than the reception of General Grant in Indianapolis on Tuesday. President Hayes is a big card at a fair except in Kansas.
There he couldn't draw.

Ex-Governor Hendricks will probably contribute some interest to the campaign next year. He declares that he won't "adorn the tail" of the Democratic ticket again. He wants the first place or none.
The Democrats can carry Indiana without Hendricks on the ticket, and this fac-places them in an unsatisfactory position.

Even so strong a hard money man as Senator Blaine, will vote against Secretary Sherman's recommendation that the legal tender clause be stricken from the greenbacks. In common with thousands of others, he would rather let the legal tender notes alone than provoke any angry financial excitement just at a time when the country is awakening from its business lethargy.

We publish in another column of the Gazette a communication from Dr. J. T.
Reeves, of Appleton, to the Milwaukee Sentinel, on the use of a low grade of illuminating oil. The article deserves an attentive reading. There is no doubt that a very large majority of kerosene accidents result from bad oil—a grade of oil which law does not permit to be used. The matter claims the attention of the Legislature, and what is necessary to be done to keep dangerous oils out of the market, should be done promptly.

It is very amusing to read the opinion of many of the Southern papers on the President's message. To the Democrats of the South Mr. Hayes has been a faithful Moses.
He has given them more than they could ask. When they deserved contempt, he gave them places of profit and trust.
When they threatened to starve the Government and give the Executive a whip-pling, he flattered them with fine words.
But when he sends his message to Congress, which in all respects a creditable document, containing many good things, the Southern Democrats take it upon themselves to say that altogether "this annual message is the most contemptible document that ever emanated from the White House."

THE NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY.
The Commissioner of Railways in this State—Hon. J. A. Turner—is preparing his annual report for 1879, which will furnish the public with many interesting and valuable facts regarding the railways of Wisconsin. A few days since the Gazette published some important statistics regarding the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, which were collected by Commissioner Turner, and from the same source we are enabled to present some facts connected with the Chicago Northwestern railway in this State. The total length of the Northwestern road is 1,932, and of this number there are 691 miles in Wisconsin.
The cost of the entire road including equipments is a little over 72 millions of dollars.
The gross earnings for the year ending September 30, 1879, were 14 millions of dollars, and the expenses of all kinds were six millions, leaving the net earnings a little over seven millions of dollars. The cost of that portion of the road which lies in Wisconsin, was 39 millions of dollars. The total number of miles run by trains in this State was 3,709,000. The number of passengers carried on the road in the State for the past year was about one million. The number of locomotives owned by the company is 364, passenger cars, 182; baggage cars, 82; freight cars, 6,853.

That part of the report of the Commissioner bearing upon accidents, is of much importance, and shows that the management has been exceedingly careful. In all the States traversed by the Northwestern Company—Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, and Iowa—there was only one passenger killed from a cause beyond his control.
Of the employees, one was killed by want of caution on his part. Two were injured from causes beyond their control, and of all other persons six were killed by their own want of caution. Considering that the company is operating nearly two thousand miles of road, running hundreds of locomotives and thousands of cars day and night, and carrying millions of passengers, it is remarkably strange that so few accidents have occurred. A more cautious and successful railway management can not be shown in this country. The road is to be congratulated upon its flattering success, financially and otherwise, and the public likewise are to be congratulated that they can travel upon a road that is so wisely and carefully managed.

THE NEW APPLICATION OF AN OLD RULE.

On the 10th of last November the Gazette published an editorial bearing the above caption. The object of the article was to show that the Constitution of the United States gave the States the power to choose Presidential electors in such manner as the Legislatures thereof might direct; and that "the Democratic party" which though dead, looking for a supernatural power to accomplish its restoration, is canvassing every adroit and extreme expedient which will enable it to obtain control of the Na-

THE UTES.

Considered in Cabinet Council—How the Red Devils Will Be Tried.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Chief Ouray's demand that the Indians concerned in the Meeker massacre be sent to Washington for trial, was the subject of a long discussion in the Cabinet to-day. Secretary Schurz says that the granting of this demand is impossible. Ouray, he says, is either a remarkably intelligent Indian, or he has some one at his elbow who knows something of the law.
The question has been several times discussed by the Cabinet but would be done with the Indians even in case they should be surrendered. The crime was committed on the Ute reservation without the jurisdiction of any State's courts. It is held by the Interior department, as in the Ponca case, which, while not analogous, involved some of the same principles, that Indians are not within the jurisdiction of United States courts, or, in other words, citizens. The only recourse would thus be to trial by military justice. This is impossible in the present case, the offense was not committed against the military, nor was it in any way connected with military jurisdiction. In this is the difference between the Meeker and the White River murders.
As there is some doubt on the subject, still the question as to how the murderers will be dealt with will probably go at once to the Attorney General for decision. The result of the Cabinet discussion was a dispatch to the commission that the murderers, if delivered, will be granted a fair trial by a military commission outside of Colorado or Mexico. They will not be allowed to come here. It is thought that this proposition will be acceptable to the Indians.

PRESIDENTIAL.

The Statements Relating to the House Bill for Counting Electoral Votes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The statement that the House Committee on the method of ascertaining and declaring the result of Presidential elections has this session agreed upon a bill, which has been extensively telegraphed from here, must be considered in connection with the fact that that Committee has not as yet held a meeting at this session, owing to the absence of two of its members from the city. The bill which is reported to have been agreed upon is the bill which was reported to the House last May by the Democratic majority of the Committee, and was recommended for action. It has not been changed in any important respect. The Republican members of the Committee do not agree to the bill, but will make a minority report. There is a serious dis-ference between the bill of the two Houses upon this subject, especially with regard to the count of the disputed votes.

CALENA.

Taking Down the Grant Decorations.

GALENA, Ill., Dec. 9.—The grand arch erected in this city in honor of General Grant was stripped of its decorations yesterday, and was taken down to-day. The arch at the corner of Main and Hill streets has also been taken down, and flags and other decorations on the business houses and public buildings removed. The city, which has been gayly decorated since the return of General Grant, has now assumed its wonted appearance, and naught remains in the way of decoration as a reminder of the happy and notable event save a few evergreen festoons on the Court House and other places, and these will probably be allowed to remain until after Christmas.
General Grant's residence is now in charge of Mr. John Mahood, a brave cavalryman during the war, who has moved his family into the rear portion of the house. The rooms have been left almost in the same condition they were in at the time they were occupied by the General and Mrs. Grant, a few articles of value only having been put under lock and key. Mrs. Grant has engaged servants and made all arrangements to resume housekeeping in Galena on the 1st of May next.

Orville Grant, brother of the General, arrived in Galena to-day, and is journeying with Mr. C. R. Perkins, a former partner of Jesse Grant in the leather business.

RANDALL'S BOOM.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—There are increasing indications that the Tilden men are settling upon Randall as their second choice, and that Tilden, failing to secure the nomination himself, will use his influence for Randall. A combination of Tilden men is said to have already been formed in Connecticut, New York, and New Jersey to defeat Bayard and to support Randall.

HENDRICKS.

He Says He Will Not Accept the Second Place with Any One—The Great Blame in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—Governor Hendricks returned from Washington last night, and was engaged in the United States Courts all day. I saw him this evening for a few minutes, during which I submitted the following question:
"Governor, the Enquirer and other papers have proposed a ticket of Mr. Seymour and yourself. They all admit your right to the Presidential nomination, but think you should sacrifice your claims for the party, and accept the second place on the ticket."
"I do not want the Vice-Presidency," he answered; "and have said it could not be required of me to accept a nomination for it. Any talk of myself for that place is wasted. The question of my making any supposed sacrifice for my party has two sides. I was willing to yield to the wishes of the party in 1876, and was elected. The Republican managers said their candidate was elected, and they meant to inaugurate him. The Democratic managers submitted the rights and decision of the majority to a trial by politicians, giving the other side a majority of the jury. These are the facts, and the people know them. I think any good man can be elected by the Democrats, and the party shall have all the aid and influence I can give to its nominees. I do not regard myself a sacrifice to party success."

The above is his answer verbatim. As to the last sentence of his remark, I must say that I differ with him. If Indiana is a necessity to Democratic success in 1880, then Mr. Hendricks is a necessity to the party. He is a part of the ticket, can carry Indiana, but no other Democrat can.
Mr. Bayard could not carry the State by 30,000 votes. The same may be said of any of the other gentlemen who have been named. If Mr. Hendricks should not be on the ticket, and as he refuses to accept the second place and the managers can give the nomination to whom they list, but at their own risk. I happen to know a large number of conservative Democrats who will vote the Republican ticket if he is not nominated.

General Grant will get the Indiana delegation in the National Convention solid.
The combined influence of all the managers in the State cannot resist the tide which set in for him.

WOLVES.

WAUPACA, Wis., Dec. 9.—Wolves are becoming a nuisance in the near vicinity of this city. On Mr. John Gardner's farm, in the town of Lund, is a large marsh which contains a brand of no less than a dozen of these ferocious animals. They make depredations on the farmers' flocks close by, and have thus far been able to avoid a successful pursuit, as the swamp is thickly grown with spruce and tamarack.
There has been a hunting party formed, and immediately after the first snow storm a general raid will be made on the four-footed enemy. Two or three wolves have been ventured into the swamp to hunt the wolves, have never been seen to come out.

KEROSENE "ACCIDENTS."

The Need of Legislation to Prevent Consumers from Low Grade Illuminating Oils.

To the Editor of the Sentinel.
APPLETON, Dec. 8.—In your issue of Friday last, and also in your issue of October 1, I find the record of fatal kerosene accidents. In each of these cases the "accident" was caused by the use of kerosene for a highly improper purpose, to-wit, the lighting of fires. No illuminating oils can be considered safe for use in this way, and we have no justification to offer for the use of kerosene for fire-lighting purposes. So long as people continue its use for such purposes fatalities may be expected to occur. Nevertheless the fact remains that bad oil of good quality has been used for this improper purpose. It is not probable that either of these unfortunate young women would have been burned to death or that there would have been any "accident."

In each of these cases as reported it appears that the oil emitted large volumes of inflammable vapor and it was this vapor that communicated the flames to the cause of fluid, exploding them and scattering their burning contents on the unfortunate victims. Oils that are of sufficiently high test to be safe for a highly proper purpose, to-wit, the lighting of fires, emit small volumes of inflammable vapor so that the accounts describe, hence had such been used it is highly improbable that any "explosion" would have occurred.

A few weeks since the writer called attention through your columns to the exceedingly low grade of illuminating oils sold in this market, and the State and continued investigation has strengthened the conviction that "he who uses the cotton kerosene of our markets carries a death warrant in his hands, and that a stumble may at any time furnish an execution." The details of accident from the explosion of a lamp while in actual use in the family, of Mr. Nathan Thompson, of Monticello, Marquette County, appeared in your paper about a month since. This case resulted in the death of his wife after a few hours of agony. Samples of the oil used in this lamp which I have tested were found to be explosive at 74 degrees F., and to burn at 34 degrees. Another sample of oil which exploded in the house of Mr. Pemberton, of Hammond, St. Croix County, at about the same time [fortunately without serious damage], was found to be explosive at 62 degrees F., its fire test being 70 degrees.
These are but samples of oils that are being freely sold in our market, and as there is no restraint upon the sale of illuminating oils, there is no limit of adulteration that the cupidity of manufacturers may not lead them to.

It was fortunate that the Norwegian Lutheran church of your city was supplied with a better grade of oil than these I have referred to, when by accident the chandelier fell in it a few weeks since, just after its lamps had been lighted. In this case the flames were extinguished with comparative ease. Samples of the oil used in these lamps which have been tested were found to bear a fire test of 120 degrees, and there was here properly no explosion. Had these lamps been filled with a lower grade of oil, such as would have given off more inflammable vapors, nothing could probably have saved the church from destruction.

Dr. Baker, Secretary of the Michigan State Board of Health, says in the last report of that Board, "This State has recently been able to protect almost completely the lives of its citizens from that horrible danger which persons, and particularly the women and children, of some other States are still permitted to suffer, namely, the constant danger of being roasted to death in one's own home because of the use of illuminating oils." The law of that State forbids the sale of oils for this purpose that will not bear a flash test of 120 degrees Fahrenheit, (erroneously stated in my former letter at 140 degrees.) Yet our experiments have proven that oils are being freely sold in this State the test of which is 40 or 50 degrees below that point.

In the use of these oils the people are unsuspecting, but we cannot hold the State guiltless in the face of such repeated warnings as it is receiving. It continues to permit the unrestrained sale of an article, to use which is at the constant peril of property and of life. If there be any excuse or justification for the sale of oils of this low grade I invite a statement of them through your columns, which I doubt not will be open for the purpose. If none be offered, may we not hope for the early passage of a law which shall so regulate the traffic in and use of illuminating oils as will afford to Wisconsin a protection as ample as that enjoyed in Michigan?
J. T. REEVES.

Indispensable.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP, which is now so popular, deserves its renown, because it has proved itself to be indispensable to all invalids. There is nothing like it to bring up the weakened powers of a man. The stomach, which is compared to a "stove," is at once set upon by it. Its powers are renewed, its work of digestion is promoted, and all the blessings resulting therefrom are supplied by its use. Food is assimilated to the system, and it, in turn, is strengthened to do its normal work. The business man whose energies have been run down by over close attention to business; the professional man suffering from the same cause; the seeker after pleasure who has made too heavy drafts upon his stock of health, are all benefited by its use. In a word, the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP is recommended to all who feel the approach of lassitude and weakness from whatever cause. Every druggist keeps it. Sold in Janesville by Prentice & Evenson.

BROWN'S HOTEL, MACON, GA., Sept. 31, 1879.
Messrs. MORGAN & ALLEN, 59 John St., New York City:

DEAR SIR:—In looking over Harper's Weekly paper I saw the advertisement of your valuable medicine, "Constitution Water," and it occurred to me that it was my duty to add to your list of testimonials. For twelve months I suffered with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder; no rest at night, up ten or fifteen times; could not walk across the street without having palpitation of the heart, would have to sit down and rest before I could get back to the hotel. Last May I was obliged to give up my business, that of hotel keeper. I was reduced in weight forty pounds.
In August I made the trip by steamer to New York, thence by steamer to New London, Connecticut, where I arrived weak and very much debilitated. My brother, J. F. Brown, President of Brown's Cotton Gin Company at New London, sent to the druggists for a bottle of "Constitution Water." I continued on my taking, saying that he, and others he knew, had been troubled in the same way. It seems incredible, but in two days I began to feel better, my appetite improving, and in a few days was able to walk up to the town, some half mile distant, without getting wearied, or having any fluttering or palpitation of the heart. In a short time I returned to New York (visited Coney Island, of course), and walked from the Wooden Pier to the Iron Pier, a distance of about half of nearly one mile, through the sand; and a long distance through Central Park without any inconvenience or distress. I am sixty years of age, have lived in Macon fifty-five years, been in the hotel business twenty-five years, and these things know me that I would not give this testimonial unless it was due you, and to those suffering as I have suffered. Diseases similar to mine and other diseases your medicine is recommended for as very prevalent in the South.

Yours truly,
E. E. BROWN.

No other such loathsome, treacherous the impurities in the nostrils are necessarily

Dr. Wm. De Meyer's Catarrh Cure ab-of poison in the farthest parts of the system.

It will not only relieve, but certainly cure which in our judgment, has ever yet really cured a case of Catarrh of the thick clothing be worn in early November that it must be much warmer in January. What will keep us comfortably warm in the damp chilliness of November will answer perfectly well in the dry, clear cold of winter. During early spring and late fall months the very moist air is a good conductor of heat, and in such weather the body loses warmth very rapidly, and becomes chilled if not sufficiently clad. I can not too seriously impress the fact that many lung diseases are contracted during these uncertain seasons by improper dress. The winter underclothing should be put on early and worn late. If the day is very warm, the change should be made in the outside garments. A lady should carry an extra shawl; a gentleman should by no means leave his overcoat at home. If the temperature suddenly falls, both then have clothing wherewith to meet the change. European dress more warmly than we, and have less catarrh, especially the Dutch, one of whose great physicians once said: "Flannel should not be put off until mid-summer's day, and should be put on the day after."

If He Would Stop There.

The shrewdness of a Boston youth is much commended. He was receiving a salary of $300 a year. On the first of January his employer made him the present of $50. He consulted his uncle as to what he should do with the amount. That prudent gentleman advised him to put it in the Savings Bank, but as the money had come easy he would do nothing of the kind. He invested it in stocks. By a streak of good luck the $50 brought him in $4500. This he put on deposit. His uncle praised the shrewdness of his nephew's stock transactions, but expressed the belief that he would "turn out to be a gambler." This is just where the danger lies. There are many instances in this city of persons making a fortune at first venture, and being flushed, pursued the business of stock dealing until they were financially ruined. One of these was so noticeable as to deserve mention. Some years ago, when the stock market was very much inflated, a young married man, who held a life position in the army, where he had achieved considerable distinction, had $900, with which he purchased a rapidly rising stock. Five days afterward he could have "cleared up" as the phrase has it, $70,000. His friends advised him to withdraw. But no. They insist that he should at least secure one-half the sum, and let the balance go as a risk. "Not a cent would be taken from the hands of the broker until the amount reached $100,000." On the contrary he went in for several thousand more dollars on a "margin." In the elation of his feelings he forwarded it to Washington. A few days afterward the crash came and the young man was next to a bankrupt. The last we heard of this unfortunate he was at the capital of the nation endeavoring to procure a situation. If those who realize largely on a first stock operation, would be content, and retire from the lists, many men would be in good circumstances who now find themselves reduced to poverty. But few do so, for there is a fascination in this sort of speculation which leads them deeper as their gains increase, until the inevitable day comes when all is lost, and when suicide often follows to close out a life which has nothing before it but a dark future. It would be useless, however to offer advice on the subject. The history of the stock board repeats itself every day, and will go on repeating so long as such speculations are held to be respectable by those who engage in them.—San Francisco Call.

Head, nerves, kidneys, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel, scrofula, and all other chronic diseases. Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candor, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice is not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain me. I do not tear down what has been made well; no harsh treatment, no trials, no fasting. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guesswork, but knowledge gained of years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement of a prospect. Sufferers in our opinion, reason- able in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure every body, but do lay claim to re- son and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interjections and decide for years, that it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.
